The above ABSTRACT is collected from the Registers of Hitchin, Ickleford, Ippolits, King's-Walden, Kimpton, Lilley, Olley, and of Pert n.

REGISTER of Baptisms and Burials of
Ippolits, defective in 1700;—and of Lilley, in 1700 and 1710.

OBSERVATION.

The Curate of Hitchin observes, "that the Small Pox prevailed in 1730, which accounts for the great Increase of Burials in the Register of that Year."

The Curate of Kimpton observes, "that the Population of that Parish has increased within these last Ten Years, the Women having very much improved themselves in the Art of plaiting Straw Bonnets." He adds, "that, in his opinion, but for this, the Annihilation of small Farms would in all Probability have produced Effects too visibly baneful to be denied."

REGISTER of Baptisms and Burials of
St. Leonard, - - - - - defective in 1720.

OBSERVATION.

The Vicar of the Parish of St. Mary observes, "that the Increase of Burials in 1781 was owing to the Small-Pox;" and also, "that an Infirmary, and an Hospital for aged and infirm Persons, occasion the Burials of that Parish to bear a larger Proportion in the Register."

The above ABSTRACT is collected from the Registers of All-Saints, St. Andrews; St. John's; and of St. Nicholas; all within the Town and County of Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

REGISTER of Burials of St. John's, - - - - - defective in 1700 and 1720.

OBSERVATIONS.

It appears that there are a great Number of Meeting-Houses of different Denominations at this Place, where the Children of the respective Congregations are chiefly baptized; and that more Burials take Place in unconsecrated Ground called the Ballast-Hills, than at the Church and Chapels altogether; of the former no Register is kept.

OBSERVATIONS

By the Curate of St. Margaret. "In 1799 and 1800 there were Military Hospitals in the Parish, which accounts for the Increase of Burials in those Years."

By the Minister of St. Mary-at-the-Elms. "The Increase of Burials in 1800 was owing to 19 Soldiers and 2 Soldiers' Wives being buried from the Hospitals in this Parish, belonging to some Regiments then arrived from Holland."

The Extent of the District, intituled, CITY OF LONDON Within-the-Walls, is bounded by the Site of the ancient Wall, which extended from Little-Tower-Hill along the East Side of the Minories and Hounds-Ditch; both which Streets are on the Site of the Ditch or Moat long since filled up. From Bishops-Gate (at the End of Hounds-Ditch) the Walls extended along the North Side of the Street now called London Wall, as far as Cripple-Gate; thence (turning Southward) to Alders-Gate and New-Gate; from whence to Lud-Gate the Street now called Old Bailey is on the Site of the Moat. From Lud-Gate (at the End of the Old Bailey) the Wall extended Eastward, till it arrived at the Rivulet called Fleet-Ditch, which here served for a Moat, as far as its Confluence with the River Thames, but is now hidden under Bridge-Street.

St. Andrew Holborn; St. Bartholomew the Great, St. Bartholomew, St. Botolph Aldersgate, St. Botolph Aldgate, St. Botolph without Bishopsgate, Bridewell Precinct, St. Bridget; St. Dunstan West; St. George Southwark, St. Giles Crip-plegate; St. John Southwark; St. Olave Southwark; St. Saviour Southwark, St. Sepulchre's; St. Thomas, Southwark, and of Trinity-Liberty in the Minories.

O B S E R V A T I O N.

The District intituled CITY of LONDON without the Walls, constitutes Part of the said City by virtue of various ancient Charters. It is proper to observe in this Place, that its Boundary is not every where conterminous with the

Parochial

Cities of LONDON AND WESTMINSTER, &c.

2. LONDON WITHOUT THE WALLS—continued.

Parochial Boundaries; wherefore the Enumeration under the Title, LONDON CITY without the Walls, is given twice; at Page 214, it contains those Persons actually resident within the City-Boundary; at Page 501 it includes, with them, all other Persons whose Parish Church is situate within the said Boundary.

Thus at Page 501, the Population of the Parish of St. Andrew's Holborn Hill, includes Saffron Hill, Hatton Garden, Ely Rents, and Ely Place, together with that Part of the Parish situate without the City-Boundary; a similar Addition is made to St. Botolph without Aldgate, and to St. Sepulchre's Newgate, for the same Reason: and St. Dunstan's Fleet Street, includes the Population of the Rolls-Liberty.

A more important Addition to the Population of the CITY of LONDON without the Walls, is also made at Page 501 of the Enumeration; where Five Parishes situate in the BOROUGH of SOUTHWARK are inserted as being within the City Boundary. Over these Parishes the CITY claims a disputed Jurisdiction; but they could not be entered at Page 214, as they are situate in the COUNTY of SURREY.

This Detail is given to shew, that in comparing the Enumeration with the Parish Registers, the Total of the CITY of LONDON without the Walls, as given at Page 501. of the Enumeration, strictly corresponds with Page 443 of this Volume; and that on the contrary, no Deduction can safely be made from Page 181 of this Abstract, as the Parishes there enumerated, and the City Boundaries, are not conterminous.

The above SUMMARY is collected from the Registers of
One Hundred and Forty-two Parish Churches and Chapels, situate in LONDON, WESTMINSTER, SOUTHWARK, &c.

* The Act for preventing Clandestine Marriages was not in force until March 25th 1754, wherefore the full Number of Marriages in that Year does not appear in the Summary; and this Remark is particularly necessary in the SUMMARY of the METROPOLIS, where the Clandestine Marriages at the Fleet-Prison and the Savoy-Precinct did not wholly cease until the End of the Year 1755. The Summary of the City of Westminster exhibits considerable Irregularity in 1754 and 1755. In 1754, Marriages at the Savoy were not registered at all; and in 1755 they were registered, though illegally solemnized there.

SUPPLEMENT.

England and Wales.

WHEN the printing of the foregoing ABSTRACT was in considerable Forwardness, it was suggested that another Attempt ought to be made to obtain Returns from the Parishes and Chapelries, of whose Registers no Return had been received.

On Revision, the Number of Clergymen's Returns probably wanting in England and Wales, was altered from 1,144 to 1,164; and of these no less than 389 Chapel Registers were found on Enquiry to have been included in the Returns made from the Registers of their respective Mother-Churches.

Of the remaining 775, Returns from 495 have been received, which are collected in ONE SUMMARY hereunto annexed; and a LIST of these Returns is subjoined to that Summary, in the Order of their respective Counties: As is also a LIST of those Places (280) from whence Returns could not be procured. These are almost without exception Chapelries, of whose Registers many are supposed to be included in the Returns made from the Registers of their respective Mother-Churches.

OBSERVATIONS

ON THE

Results of the Population Act, 41 Geo. III.

ON the last Day of the Year 1800 was passed, "An Act for taking an Account of the Population of Great Britain, and of the Increase or Diminution thereof."

I.

THE FIRST of these Objects was to be effected by a general ENUMERATION of HOUSES, FAMILIES, and PERSONS; and the proper Officers of the several Parishes and Places were directed in what Manner to proceed in taking the Account, on the 10th Day of March 1801, in ENGLAND and WALES, and in SCOTLAND as soon as possible after that Day. This Difference was necessary, because in the colder Climate of Scotland, it was not certain that all Parts of the Country would be easily accessible so early in the Year.

An ABSTRACT of the Answers and Returns made, was directed to be laid before both Houses of Parliament; and the SUMMARY of the ENUMERATION appeared to be as follows.

* In this Number are included all such new Houses as were not so far completed as to have received Inhabitants.

1. The Total Population of GREAT BRITAIN probably exceeds the Number of Persons specified in the above Summary, inasmuch as from some Parishes no Returns were received.

2. The

2. The Number of Houses in IRELAND has been nearly ascertained by the Collection of a Hearth-Money Tax, and therefrom it has been computed that the Population of that Part of the United Kingdom somewhat exceeds Four Millions of Persons.

3. The Islands of GUERNSEY, JERSEY, ALDERNEY, and SARK, and the SCILLY ISLANDS, were not comprised in the Enumeration. The Total Population of these Islands has been usually estimated at about EIGHTY THOUSAND PERSONS.

4. On these Considerations, with a very moderate Allowance for Omissions in the Returns, the Total POPULATION of the UNITED KINGDOM of GREAT BRITAIN and IRELAND amounts to FIFTEEN MILLIONS ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND PERSONS: and besides these, its EASTERN and WESTERN POSSESSIONS and COLONIES contain many Natives of the British Isles.

II.

THE SECOND OBJECT of the Population Act was to ascertain the INCREASE or DIMINUTION of the Population of Great Britain, throughout the last Century.

To effect this Object, certain QUESTIONS were appointed to be answered by the Officiating Minister of every Church and Chapel throughout Great Britain.

The Questions were to the following Effect:

“What was the Number of Baptisms and Burials in your Parish in the several Years 1700, 1710, 1720, 1730, 1740, 1750, 1760, 1770, 1780, and each subsequent Year to the 31st Day of December 1800, distinguishing Males from Females?”

“What was the Number of Marriages in your Parish in each Year, from the Year 1754 inclusive to the End of the Year 1800?”

The Clergy of England and Wales were enabled to answer these Questions by having recourse to the PARISH REGISTERS, which have been established in the Church of England ever since the Reformation.

When it was enacted in the Reign of Henry VIII. that the Church of England should be no longer obedient to the Pope, Thomas Cromwell was appointed the King's Vicegerent for Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction; and in that capacity issued certain Injunctions to the Clergy in the Year 1538.

One of these Injunctions ordains, that every Officiating Minister shall, for every Church, keep a Book, wherein he shall register every Marriage, Christening, and Burial; and the Injunction goes on to direct the Manner and Time of making the Entries in the Register-Book weekly; and any neglect therein is made penal.

In the first Year of Edw. VI. (Anno 1547) all Episcopal authority was suspended for a Time, while the ecclesiastical Visitors then appointed went through the several Dioceses to enforce divers Injunctions, and among others that respecting Parish Registers.

This Injunction was again repeated in the beginning of the Reign of Elizabeth, who also appointed a Protestation to be made by the Clergy, in which, among other things, they promised to keep the Register-Book in a proper Manner.

The Canons of the Church of England, which are now in force, date their authority from the beginning of the Reign of James I. (Anno 1603). One of them prescribes very minutely in what manner Entries are to be made in the Parish Registers; herein reciting the Injunction of 1538, and ordering an attested Copy of the Register of each successive Year to be annually transmitted to the Bishop of the Diocese or his Chancellor, and to be preserved in the said Bishop's Registry.

This

This Canon also contains a retrospective Clause, appointing that the ancient Registers, so far as they could be procured, but especially since the beginning of the Reign of Elizabeth, should be copied into a Parchment Book, to be provided by every Parish. This wise Regulation was so well obeyed, that most of the ancient Parish Registers now extant, commence with that Queen's Reign, and some of them earlier, quite as far back as the Date of the original Injunction.

That Part of the Canon which directs the Register Book to be kept in a Coffe in the Church, is not enforced, as it was found by experience that the Book was liable to be damaged by the Moisture prevalent in uninhabited Buildings, and also to be purloined with the other contents of the Church Coffe. The Register-Book is at present usually kept in custody of the Officiating Minister, at his own House.

Many Inconveniencies having arisen from the undue Solemnization and Registry of Marriages, an Act was passed in the 26 Geo. II. which directs a certain Formula for the Registry of Marriages, to be attested and signed by the Minister officiating, the Persons married, and two or more Witnesses; and declares any Erasure or Mutilation of the Marriage Register, or any false Entry therein, to be Felony without Benefit of Clergy, which implies a capital Offence.

This Act was not in force until the 25th March 1754, so that little more than Three Fourths of the full Number of Marriages in that Year could be brought to account under the Population Act.

In England and Wales the Registers were found to be in a state sufficiently correct for any general Purpose; but as the Injunctions of Henry VIII. and his Successors, and the subsequent Canon Law do not extend to the Church of Scotland, it is not surprising that few correct Registers are to be found in that Country.

Even the Marriage Act above-mentioned does not extend to Scotland, and the Registry of Marriages there still remains at the discretion of the Persons married, and consequently is very irregular*.

CONCERNING THE REGISTRY OF MARRIAGES.

THE Solicitude of the Female and her Kindred, aided by the precision and severity of the Marriage Act, leaves no Occasion to suspect any deficiency in the Marriage Registry from negligence; and the deficiency from other Causes cannot be very important.

Some few Persons are known to evade the provisions of the Marriage Act by a Marriage in Scotland; but the Registry of Marriages in England is not much affected thereby, because the Kindred of the Female who has been thus irregularly married, usually cause the evil to be repaired by an indissoluble Marriage in the Church of England.

The Marriages of Dissenters of every denomination are solemnized in the established Church; excepting those among Quakers, who intermarry in their own Congregation. To these may be added the Jews, who are also permitted to marry according to their own peculiar ceremonial; but neither of these religious Sects are numerous.

With these Exceptions the Marriage Registry of England and Wales may be deemed complete and unexceptionable.

Consequently the Returns made, pursuant to the Population Act, ought to have comprehended almost the Total Number of Marriages; but from about 280 places, Returns could not be procured; and this deficiency, added to that occasioned by the aforesaid religious Sects, cannot be estimated at much less than a Thousand Marriages per Annum.

A great variation in the Annual Amounts of Marriages is caused by the circumstances of the times, and especially by the price of provisions; so that no safe inference concerning the Increase or Diminution of Population can be drawn from the comparison of any single Years with each other; but the average Amount of the Marriages for five Years together, or for a longer period, is the best of evidence on the subject, because the Register of Marriages is more correct than any other.

* See Parish Register Abstract, p. 458.

The following TABLE exhibits the average Amount of every Five and Ten Years since the Marriage Act has been fully in force. It will appear in the Sequel of these Observations, that the Results from this Table are very fimilar to those drawn from the Registered Baptifms.

In the YEAR 1755 the Number of MARRIAGES was - - - - 48,400;

CONCERNING THE REGISTRY OF BURIALS.

THE Registry of Burials may be fupposed to be deficient on the following Confiderations.

1. That Roman Catholics, Jews, and fome Diffenters, do not always bury their Dead in the Cemeteries belonging to the Church of England.
2. That fome Perfons, from motives of Poverty or Convenience, inter their Dead without any religious Ceremony; this is known to happen in the Metropolis, in Bristol, and Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and may happen in a few other large Towns.
3. Children who die before Baptifm are interred without any religious Ceremony, and confequently are not registered.
4. Negligence may be fupposed to caufe fome omiffions in the Registers, efpecially in thofe of fmall Benefices, where the Officiating Minifter is not refident.
5. The Returns which could not be procured are eftimated at Five Burials each per Annum: this Deficiency may be reckoned at 1,400 in England and Wales.
6. Many Perfons employed in the Army and in Navigation die abroad, and confequently their Burials remain unregistered.

Whatever may be the total Number of Deaths and Burials not brought to account, it has been computed that about 5,000 of them may be attributed to the Metropolis, and a large portion of the reft may be afcribed to the other great Towns, and to Wales, where the Registers are lefs carefully kept than in England.

The annual Amount of the Burials, as collected conformably to the Population Act, authorizes a fatisfactory inference of diminifhing Mortality in England fince the Year 1780; the Number of Marriages and Baptifms indicate that the exifting Population is to that of 1780 as 117 to 100, while the Amount of registered Burials has remained ftationary during the laft Twenty-one Years; the firft Five Years of which, as well as the laft Five Years, and all the Twenty-one Years taken together, equally average at about 186,000 per Annum.

Therefore the average Duration of Life in England has evidently increafed during that period in the proportion of 117 to 100; for though the Registry of Burials is certainly deficient, no caufe can be affigned for believing that the Deficiency has been increafing in the laft Twenty-one Years.

CONCERNING THE REGISTRY OF BAPTISMS.

THE Registry of Baptisms is deficient from the same causes as that of Burials, and in a greater Degree.

1. Many Dissenters of every Denomination who usually bury in the Cemeteries of the established Church, do not baptize in it. This cause alone is sufficient to prevent the Number of Registered Baptisms from approximating to the Number of Births.

2. Some irreligious Persons do not cause their Children to be baptized at all. This is supposed to happen chiefly in the large towns.

3. Some Children, whose Parents are of the established Church, die immediately after Birth, unbaptized; and a much greater Number who are privately baptized, are not afterwards brought to the Church for Public Baptism, and therefore are not always registered. The practice of the Clergy is not uniform in this Point, as the Canon concerning Registers applies to Christenings: which word is usually supposed to mean Public Baptisms only. In the County of Northumberland it is supposed that One Third of the whole Number of Baptisms is omitted from this cause; and doubtless in many other Counties, Omissions from the same cause also take place.

4. Negligence may be supposed to cause the same Proportion of Omissions in the Registry of Baptisms as in that of Burials.

5. The Returns which could not be procured are estimated at Seven Baptisms each per Annum; this Deficiency may be reckoned at Two Thousand in England and Wales.

From all these combined Causes of Deficiency, the Amount of Registered Baptisms falls very short of the real Amount of Births.

The whole Number of Baptisms, collected for the purposes of the Population Act, appears to be 6,436,110; of these, 3,285,188 Males; 3,150,922 Females; so that the Baptisms of Males are 10,426 to 10,000 Baptisms of Females. - The whole Number of the Burials appears to be 5,165,844; of these, 2,575,762 Males; 2,590,082 Females; so that the Burials of Males are 9,944 to 10,000 Burials of Females.

It may be inferred hence, that of 10,426 Males born in England only 9,944 die at home; therefore about One in Twenty-two dies abroad in the employments of War and Commerce; a Proportion which strongly marks the enterprising Character of the Nation.

III.

FROM the REGISTERS of BAPTISMS, BURIALS, and MARRIAGES, a probable Estimate of the INCREASE or DIMINUTION of the POPULATION of Great Britain throughout the last Century, is to be attempted.

So far as the Marriage Register of England and Wales extends, there is no danger of error in depending on it for this purpose; but from the many alleged causes of Deficiency, in the Registry of Burials and Baptisms, it may be urged that no safe deduction can be made therefrom.

It cannot be denied that the Mortality, and consequently the Number of Burials in any insulated Year, is an irregular Criterion of Population. The Registered Burials in the last successive Twenty-one Years in some instances shew a variation of above Eighteen Thousand in successive Years; and as the amount of the Baptisms appears not to vary above Half as much from the circumstances of the times and seasons, it is certainly the preferable Criterion for the early part of the Century, of which only every Tenth Year appears in the Abstract.

The

The Objection that has been urged against the authority of any Collection of the Parish Registers of Baptisms, is, that Registers were in former periods more defective from negligence than they have been in the Years nearer the present time.

As no particular Date can be assigned when the improvement happened, it must be supposed to be progressive quite to the present time: and as the manner of registering Marriages according to the Act which took place in 1754, admits of no suspicion of deficiency in that Register, it is to be expected that the Registered Baptisms must at present be in higher Proportion to the Marriages than they were Fifty Years since. If this be not the case, the Objection drawn from the supposed progressive improvement in the Registry cannot be applicable to the last Half of the Century.

It is proper therefore to find this Proportion at as many Periods as the Collection of Registers affords an opportunity of so doing: and herein it is reasonable to assume, that the Marriages of any current Year, and of the Four preceding Years, must chiefly influence the Number of Baptisms in it.

The medium Average of Marriages in 1760 and the Four Years preceding it, may be taken at 51,600; the Registered Baptisms of the same Year 1760 appear to have been 187,000; therefore the Registered Baptisms were at that Time as 362 to 100 Marriages.

In this Manner the following TABLE of PROPORTIONS has been formed:

	Baptisms.		Marriages.
1760	- - - 362	to	- - - 100
1770	- - - 356	to	- - - 100
1780	- - - 357	to	- - - 100
1785	- - - 365	to	- - - 100
1790	- - - 365	to	- - - 100
1795	- - - 348	to	- - - 100
1800	- - - 347	to	- - - 100

It appears hence that the Proportion of Registered Baptisms to Marriages has continued much the same; the extremes of the fluctuation differing only a Twentieth part, and that difference tending to prove not that the Registers are more accurate, but rather less accurate now than formerly. But the Dearth which afflicted England in the Years 1795 and 1800, in all probability lowered the Proportion of Births as much as it appears to have lowered the Proportion of Baptisms in those Years. So that since the Year 1755, the Register of Baptisms has not been more or less accurately kept: and hence it appears, that the amount of Registered Baptisms will give the same Results as that of Marriages in any calculation of the Increase of Population in the last Half of the Century.

Of the earlier part of the Century, the want of an accurate Marriage Registry renders it impossible to speak so confidently; as far as Analogy is of weight, a similarity with the later Period may be supposed; and in the Abstract appears a further reason for believing that the correctness of the Registers has been not unequal throughout the last Century.

In the first Years which appear in the Abstract, the Amount of Registered Baptisms stands thus: In 1700, 152,000; in 1710, 139,000; in 1720, 155,000. This fluctuation appears very different from what must have happened if the deficiencies of Registers were greater the further we go back in the examination.

It is true, indeed, that in the Years 1709 and 1710, England was afflicted by a Dearth which must have lowered the Proportion of Births in 1710, as lately happened in 1795 and 1800: but the nearly concurrent amounts of Registered Baptisms in 1700 and 1720, and the known cause of Diminution in 1710, must be allowed presumptive evidence of a probability, that the Deficiency caused by incorrectness was not greater then than it is at present: nor is it known that any Alteration in the Number of Dissenters, or in the other causes of Deficiency in the Register of Baptisms has taken place.

HAVING premised these remarks on the authority of the Register of Baptisms for forming an Estimate of the Increase or Diminution of the Population, in the next place it is necessary to determine at what Number to take the existing Population.

The Enumeration of 1801 amounts to 8,872,980 Persons for England and Wales; and to this Number an appropriate share of the Soldiers and Mariners is to be added. These appear to have been 469,188; and if (exclusive of them) the Total Population of the British Isles is 14,630,812*, about a Thirtieth may be added to the Inhabitants, to ascertain the Population of any distinct part.

Therefore the existing Population of England and Wales is taken at 9,168,000 in the following Table; and the Population therein attributed to the other Years is obtained by the Rule of Proportion.

Thus: If 255,426 Baptisms (the average Medium of the last five Years) were produced from a Population of 9,168,000, from what Population were 152,540 (the Baptisms of 1700) produced?

1. The Dearth which prevailed in the Years 1709 and 1710 caused the average Price of Wheat in those Years to rise to 62 Shillings per Quarter; whereas the average Price of the Ten preceding Years was only 30 Shillings per Quarter. The Dearth of 1800 caused the average Price of Wheat to rise to 110 Shillings per Quarter; whereas the average Price of the Ten preceding Years was no more than 54 Shillings per Quarter.

Therefore the severity of the Dearth of 1710 and 1800 may be reckoned as equal, and the effect of both in diminishing the Births and Baptisms may be assumed to have been also equal. In the Year 1800 the Baptisms were 247,000, though the Five Years Average is above 255,000. By applying a proportional increase to the Baptisms of 1710, the Number from whence the Population of 1710 was to be deduced, became 146,000 instead of 139,000. If the latter Number had been used, the Population of 1710 had appeared in the Table at no more than 5,003,000.

2. For 1785 the average Medium of the Baptisms of that Year and the Four preceding Years is taken. So for 1790 and 1795. Before 1780 the Baptisms of every Year do not appear in the Abstract.

3. Although the beginning of the Century exhibits a decreasing Population, the lost Number had been regained in 1720; and since that time a continual, though irregular, Increase is manifest.

4. The Population of England and Wales in 1801, compared with that of the beginning of the last Century, is as 1,000 to 597, or nearly as Ten to Six.

THE following TABLE for SCOTLAND is formed in the same manner in every respect, but is of much less authority, as founded on a Collection of no more than 99 Parish Registers from different parts of the Country. These Parishes contain less than a Seventh of the whole Population. In all there are about 900 Parishes in Scotland.

The Population of SCOTLAND in 1801, compared with that of the beginning of the last Century, is as 1000 to 634; nearly as 10 to 6 $\frac{1}{3}$.

IN the Year 1695 a Poll-Tax was levied in IRELAND; and on this Occasion it was calculated that the Number of Inhabitants was 1,034,000. But the usual evasion of Taxation may be supposed to have lessened the real Number considerably. About the Year 1795 Ireland contained at least Four Millions, and since that Time the Number has not increased. It may not be very erroneous to estimate the Population of Ireland at 1,500,000 in the Year 1700, and at 4,000,000 in the Year 1801.

If this be granted, the Population belonging to all the British Isles has increased during the last Century from 8,100,000 to 15,100,000.

FROM the Collection of Parish Registers it is not difficult to ascertain the Increase or Diminution of the Population of the several Counties, in the same manner as of that of the whole Kingdom; but it is sufficient for this subordinate examination to state the Population in 1700, 1750, and 1801. In the Calculation for the whole Kingdom a Thirtieth was added to the resident Population on account of Soldiers and Mariners; but in the third Column of the subsequent TABLE only a Fortieth has been added to each County. This difference was made on the consideration that in 1801 (during War) the Mariners who navigated the Merchant-Shipping were mostly Foreigners, as were at that Time some few of the Army and Royal Navy. These Men having never inhabited any County, could not with propriety be attributed to any.

In the fourth Column is also shewn the Proportion of the existing Population to the medium Average of the Marriages of the last five Years. In the fifth Column is shewn the Number of Registers from which Returns were received, and in the last Column the Number of Returns supposed to be wanting from each County.

The Proportion of Returns wanting, however small in appearance, is still less in reality; as most of them were probably due from dependent Chapels, which are not permitted to baptize, bury, or marry*, and consequently possess no Register Book.

In the Calculation, Two Marriages were added for each Return supposed to be wanting.

* During a War, about 400 Marriages are celebrated annually at Plymouth and in the Vicinity, between the Seamen of the Royal Navy and the Women who receive them on Shore. Omitting Plymouth in the Calculation, the Population of Devon is as 128.8 to one Marriage.

† Many Persons who intend a secret Marriage, lodge a Month in the Metropolis, and are then married there; this helps to augment the Marriages in Middlesex so largely above the Average of England.

‡ During a War, the Marriages at Portsmouth and in the Vicinity are annually about 400 more than usual, for the same reason as at Plymouth. Omitting Portsmouth in the Calculation, the Population of Hampshire is as 127.7 to one Marriage.

THE METROPOLIS of England, at once the Seat of Government and the greatest Emporium in the known World, seems to claim a distinct notice of the Increase or Diminution of its Population. It is situated in Two Counties, divided by the River Thames, and its Population is exhibited in Five Divisions. A Thirtieth Part was added to the existing Population of England in general; but it is undeniable that Fourteen Thousand Arrivals of Trading Shipping annually, must make a constant, though fluctuating accession to the resident Population of the Metropolis, to a larger Amount than elsewhere. On this consideration, adding a Twenty-fifth instead of a Thirtieth part, the Metropolis contains 900,000 Persons.*

1. The Walls of the ancient City of London included a space now in the middle of the Metropolis, about one Mile and a Half in Length, and rather more than Half a Mile in Breadth. † The Population has diminished almost One-half during the last Century. Many Streets have been widened, and many Public Buildings erected, whereby the Number of Houses has been much lessened; and the Houses which remain are not crowded with Inhabitants, as formerly they were. At present the Population is nearly the same as that of Liverpool;‡ which town in extent also and situation is very similar to the ancient City of London.

2. The City of London without the Walls, is an extension of the ancient City, which it surrounds. It is governed by the City Magistrates.

3. Westminster, which is the Seat of Government, adjoins to the City, extending Westward.

4. The London Bills of Mortality were originally instituted about the Year 1562; and from 1603 a complete Series is preserved. The putrid filth produced by a crowded Population, and not carried off by sufficient Sewers, made London very unhealthy in former times, and caused a Plague about once in twenty Years; and a timely notice of this danger was to be given by the Weekly Bills of Mortality. The crowded part of London was purified by the memorable Conflagration of 1666, which seems to have exterminated the Plague. The District within the Bills of Mortality has been gradually extended, and, besides London and Westminster, now comprehends a large Population under the Title of the OUT-PARISHES.

‡ The Resident Population of Liverpool, 77,653; add One Twenty-fifth for Mariners, &c. = 3,106:

5. A few

5. A few Parishes, now forming part of the Metropolis, have not yet been taken into the Bills of Mortality. The rapid Increase of the Population of this Division shews how rapidly London increases in extent, though its Population does not increase so fast as that of the Kingdom in general. In 1700 the Metropolis contained almost an Eighth part of the Inhabitants of England and Wales, in 1750 above a Tenth part, and at present rather less than that Proportion.

6. The many inquiries and discussions which have taken place concerning the Population of the Metropolis, have determined the Deaths unregistered at about 5,000 annually, and the registered Burials of the last five Years average at 24,000. Nine Hundred Thousand divided by Twenty-nine Thousand gives the annual Mortality at One in Thirty-one. In the Year 1750 it appears to have been One in Twenty-three; but it is not wonderful that the extension of the Population over a larger space should have had this salutary effect.

London,

A few further observations may be made on the subject of the Bill of Mortality. The rapid increase of the population of the City of London has been the cause of the Bill of Mortality, and the Bill of Mortality is the cause of the rapid increase of the population of the City of London.

The Bill of Mortality is a Bill which has been introduced into the House of Commons, and it is a Bill which has been introduced into the House of Commons, and it is a Bill which has been introduced into the House of Commons.
